* Government Code section 11123(b) allows a state body to conduct a meeting by teleconference, provided certain procedures are followed. Because neither Commissioner Rogers nor Commissioner Baylis was able to participate from teleconference locations that were publicly noticed in advance and otherwise available for members of the public to attend, as required by Section 11123(b), their participation necessarily was without power to affect the outcome of any action taken by the Commission. Because a quorum of the Commission otherwise was legally present in qualified locations, and each action taken in this meeting was supported unanimously by that quorum, the non-participation of Commissioners Rogers and Baylis had no impact on the validity of the outcome of any Commission vote at this teleconference meeting.
