Background

Traditionally, FGC has recognized out-going Commissioners for the work those individuals performed during the term they served.

Jim Kellogg was appointed to FGC on January 31, 2002 by Governor Davis. He was reappointed by Governors Schwarzenegger and Brown. During his tenure, he served as President and Vice President of FGC as well as Co-chair for the Wildlife Resources Committee. He served for nearly 13 years, ending in December 2015.

FGC discussed recognizing him for his performance as a Commissioner and decided that the cost of a gift would be borne by the Commissioners in their individual capacity, as State funds could not be used to purchase gifts.

Significant Public Comments (N/A)*Recommendation
