

Strategic Plan: A Living Process

This strategic plan, and its agenda, is a beginning. It constitutes a first step taken by the Commission and its public partners toward ensuring the future of California's fish and wildlife resources. The implementation of this strategic plan does not signal its finality. It only signals movement toward its identified challenges, goals and implementation strategies. The strategic plan is an ever-evolving document that will be revisited at least annually to determine if it still serves the resources and the Commission in the ways intended.

Greater Sandhill Cranes (state-listed "threatened")
Photo by Bob Corey